- (b) Dubula has managed to convince them not to take a bus and may have done that to a number of people. He is very persuasive. ✓✓ / Dubula, as a community leader, politely requests them to participate in a boycott of buses. He tells them why there is a boycott and so persuades them. ✓✓ (2)
- 1.1.4 John is a great speaker who can address the crowds. ✓ Dubula is a very brave man; he is not afraid to act. ✓ John is all about talking, but Dubula is not afraid to act. ✓ (2)
- 1.1.5 He is determined/firm/resolute. ✓
 Kumalo is on a mission to look for his son. ✓/ He does not want to allow anything to deter him from finding his son. ✓ (2)
- 1.1.6 Absalom has been in Johannesburg and alone for a long time before his father comes, yet his father thinks he should not be alone now that he has seen how Johannesburg is. ✓✓ (2)
- 1.1.7 Open-ended.
 Accept a relevant response which shows an understanding of the following viewpoints, among others:
 Yes.
- Absalom leaves his home like other people from rural areas to find his aunt in Johannesburg.
 - The city of Johannesburg is a place to which people from rural areas are drawn and they never return.
 - It promises to naïve people like Absalom to be a city of gold / more opportunities.
 - Poverty is rife in Johannesburg and for living poor black people resort to immoral behaviour.
 - Absalom kills Arthur Jarvis in a robbery that goes wrong.

OR

No.

- Absalom is a self-made victim because of the choices he makes.
- He decides to stay in Johannesburg instead of going back to Ndotsheni and pursue his studies.
- He mixes with the wrong crowd (thieves/thugs).
- He is given a chance to a better life at the reformatory school but decides to go back to his wrong ways.

NOTE: For full marks, the response must be well-substantiated. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for a response which is not well-substantiated. The candidate's interpretation must be grounded in the novel. (3)

AND

1.2.1 The new pastor comes from outside the village/he is a stranger to the ways of life of the people of Ndotsheni and their experiences. ✓ Kumalo on the other hand knows all the villagers and is able to understand them. / Ndotsheni people are used to their old priest rather than the young man sent by the bishop. ✓ (2)

1.2.2 He feels ashamed of what Absalom has done and that to him indicates that he is not a good priest. ✓ /The welcoming affirms that they accept him despite what has happened. ✓ (1)

1.2.3 Ndotsheni symbolises the moral and spiritual decay of the country – youth has left and only old people remain behind. ✓ There is a drought and their farming methods lead to the destruction of land. ✓ (2)

NOTE: Accept other relevant answers.

1.2.4 (a) Despair/hopelessness ✓ (1)

(b) Kumalo's friend is concerned about the lack of rain and feels helpless. ✓ (1)

1.2.5 C/Great Spirit. ✓ (1)

1.2.6 The girl is Absalom's wife. ✓ (1)

1.2.7 Kumalo felt that he could not leave her in Johannesburg carrying Absalom's child. ✓ The girl is now Absalom's wife / Kumalo will take care of her. ✓ (2)

1.2.8 The discussion of the theme of comfort in desolation should include the following points, among others:

- The love and care that the people of Ndotsheni show Kumalo when he comes back restores his confidence.
- It takes away his fear and he confesses the sins of his sister, brother and son.
- Kumalo's faith in God's love is shown when he seeks comfort in his suffering when his son is about to be hanged.
- He finds comfort in entrusting his dying son to God's love and saving grace.

NOTE: For full marks, the response must be well-substantiated. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for a response which is not well-substantiated. The candidate's interpretation must be grounded in the novel. (3)

1.2.9 Open ended.

Accept any relevant response which shows an understanding of the following viewpoints, among others:

Yes.

- Absalom left Ndotsheni and his father did not know his whereabouts.
- Kumalo did not have an idea about Johannesburg and its predicaments.
- Only when he goes to Johannesburg and sees the situation there that he gets worried about his son and unfortunately it is at the time when he is found guilty of murdering Arthur Jarvis, James Jarvis' son.
- James gets a better understanding of his son after his death.
- He gets closer to him from reading the collection of reading material in his house.
- Unlike Kumalo, there is little that Jarvis can do for his son. He can only show his love to his son's family.
- Kumalo, on the other hand, has time to bond with his son and pray for him.
- Kumalo also shows his love by taking care of a girl pregnant with his son's child.

OR

No.

- The Kumalos have been a close family which causes Absalom to go and look for his aunt in Johannesburg.
- At home his parents are saving money to take him to school.
- Absalom is still young when he goes to Johannesburg and the assumption is that he will come back.
- His parents are left wondering why he is not coming back and not writing.
- James Jarvis has been close to his son. Kumalo recalls seeing them together when Arthur was still young.
- Unfortunately for Jarvis, his son is murdered and he did not get the chance to get to understand him better as an adult.

NOTE: Do not award a mark for YES or NO. Credit responses where a combination is given. For full marks, the response must be well-substantiated. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for a response which is not well-substantiated. The candidate's response must be grounded in the novel. (3)

- 2.1.5 (a) Polite / well-mannered / enquiring/ curious. ✓ (1)
 (b) Mr Utterson addresses Mr Hyde respectfully despite the fact that he does not trust him. /Mr Utterson is curious to know or see Hyde because he is suspicious of his friendship with Dr Jekyll. ✓ (1)
- 2.1.6 Tense ✓ – It is the first time they meet, they do not 'know' each other. / Mr Utterson is the last person that Mr Hyde would have wanted to see. / Mr Utterson has heard about Mr Hyde and what he sees is not likeable. ✓ (2)
- 2.1.7 Open-ended.

Accept a relevant response which shows an understanding of the following viewpoints among others:

Yes.

- Mr Utterson does not jump to conclusions without having enough information.
- He is not quick to judge Dr Jekyll.
- He is secretive / he does not divulge the information he has about Dr Jekyll, not even to his cousin Enfield.

No.

- He does not handle Jekyll's case well because they are friends.
- He is concerned with Dr Jekyll's reputation so that he does not act when he has vital information.
- He concludes that Dr Jekyll is blackmailed by Mr Hyde, instead of dealing with Mr Hyde.
- He does not go to the police when he knows about the relationship between Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde.

NOTE: Do NOT award a mark for YES or NO. Credit responses where a combination is given. For full marks, the response must be well-substantiated. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for a response which is not well-substantiated. The candidate's response must be grounded in the novel. (3)

AND

- 2.2.1 (a) He believed in the dual nature of a human being thus created Hyde. ✓ Hyde made him feel younger/ for secret pleasures that he cannot enjoy as Dr Jekyll but does not want to dent his reputation. ✓ (2)
- (b) Dr Jekyll chooses to create Hyde whom he is able to control by taking the drug when he does not want him, but at the end he involuntarily becomes Hyde and does not want to be Hyde. ✓✓ (2)
- 2.2.2 (a) He stayed committed to his decision of not indulging himself with the pleasures of being Mr Hyde. ✓ (1)
- (b) Jekyll decides to stay true to himself because he can see the danger of changing involuntarily into Mr Hyde without taking the transformation draught. ✓ (1)
- 2.2.3 (a) Metaphor ✓ (1)
- (b) The temptation /Hyde having been repressed for a long time finally comes out very angry/ being inconsiderate/destructive. (2)
- 2.2.4 Dr Jekyll is kind / intelligent. ✓
Mr Hyde is evil / violent. ✓ (2)
- 2.2.5 The discussion of the theme of the importance of reputation should include the following points, among others:
- Dr Jekyll is determined to maintain a good reputation and appearance as expected of him as a Victorian physician.
 - In order for him to satisfy his evil side, he must create Hyde.
 - Whatever evil events Hyde is involved in should have no repercussions for Jekyll's character.
 - Dr Jekyll does not realise that Hyde would become uncontrollable and be detrimental to him.
 - Dr Jekyll commits suicide rather than face a jail sentence for killing Sir Danvers Carew. (3)

NOTE: For full marks, the response must be well substantiated. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for a response which is not well-substantiated. The candidate's interpretation must be grounded in the novel.

2.2.6 Open-ended.

Accept any relevant response which shows understanding of the story, among others:

Yes.

- Dr Jekyll clearly shows signs of being a drug addict: where he starts experimenting by drinking the transforming draught / willingly testing the drug.
- He enjoys the feeling he gets from the drug.
- He is in denial when confronted by Utterson about Hyde and he says that Hyde is not bad and he can easily get rid of Hyde when he chooses to do that.
- He attempts to quit when he involuntarily changes to Hyde but the need becomes a problem and therefore he goes back to taking the drug.
- Ultimately his self-destructive behaviour becomes so severe that it leads him to commit murder and eventually to take his life.

No.

- Dr Jekyll, as an intelligent scientist, wants to prove that man is dual in nature.
- He conducts an experiment to separate the two personalities.
- The temptation to discover this profound suggestion lies in the actual practice of consuming the transformation draught which turns him into Hyde.
- He could not stay being Hyde so he had to take it again to be Dr Jekyll.
- Dr Jekyll preferred to be himself to being Hyde.

NOTE: Do not award a mark for YES or NO. Credit responses where a combination is given. For full marks, the response must be well-substantiated. A candidate can score 1 or 2 marks for a response which is not well-substantiated. The candidate's response must be grounded in the novel.
